

Fine Lines

Aim:

Navigate through the maze from one diamond to the other. You can start from and finish on either of the diamonds.

Preparation:

The maze is divided into four horizontal sections. Imagine that each of these sections can be moved. In your mind, rearrange the sections. For example, imagine that the top section is now on the bottom, and that the bottom section is now on the top.

When you have decided the order of the sections, you can begin.

Rules:

1. Move along the black lines. You cannot move in the white spaces.
2. When one line crosses another, you cannot turn right or left - you must continue on the same line.
3. When you reach the outer border of a section, you can cross into the next section only if there is a continuing line. If there is no continuing line, you are blocked.
